

SHELLEY DAVIS

Bio

Former City Council Member for the City of Georgetown, TX, former Chief of Staff for two U. S. House of Representatives in Washington, D. C. and currently, National Political Director, RainbowPUSH Coalition.

A native of Texas, Davis was one of the youngest office holders in his state when he was elected to the City Council of Georgetown. Shelley graduated from Wade College in Dallas Texas His experience includes: Executive Director of the Texas Legislative Black Caucus, numerous presidential campaigns as state and regional director of African–American outreach for Clinton/Gore, Gore/Lieberman, Kerry/Edwards, Obama/Biden, Clinton/Kane and Biden/Harris campaigns, and as Chief of Staff for Texas State Senator Rodney Ellis of Houston. For just over a two decades, he has worked as senior advisor to Reverend Jesse L. Jackson, Sr., he has traveled to Europe, the Middle East as well as numerous regions in Asia, Africa, and South America.

Davis is knowledgeable on national and international political issues including the Middle East, labor, human rights, education, relief crises (from Katrina to Darfur), immigration, global warming and strategic planning for corporate and private businesses, organizations, and campaigns. He is seasoned in public policy issues including civil rights, health care, education; HIV/AIDS fund development, breast cancer awareness in honor of Tracy (sister) and Theda Belle (grandmother), housing, employment and has first-hand experience with fund development and campaign finance.