

MATILDA ARHIN

Bio

Having lived in Atlanta since 1999, Matilda Arhin has become consummate marketing magnet motivating and mobilizing Africans across the Americas and in Africa to work together, using the power of her cultural roots and pride in Ghana and the experiences gained from her access to 4 continents; Africa, Americas, Europe and Asia.

Over the last Decade, she has hosted Trade Delegations from Ghana and other African countries in Atlanta and US Cities and remains one of the most reliable and recognized personalities in the metro Atlanta area.

Her relationship equity with corporate America and Africa's public and private sectors, as President of her Atlanta-Based Ghana International Chamber of Commerce (GHICC), her consulting company - Global African Partners (GAP), complemented by her coveted position as a board member of the prestigious World Trade Center of Atlanta, has endowed her with the unique ability to swing open giant gates for Governments, Businesses and NGOs on both sides of the Atlantic to facilitate investments and developments. Ms Arhin is a respected consultant/advisor or speaker on Africa On Demand by the City of Atlanta, the State of Georgia. Some of the America's most influential Trade Associations, such as the US Black Chamber of Commerce (USBC), Rainbow Push Coalition and her Board Advisory position at Clark Atlanta University on Public Admin Department fosters valuable academic connections such as the Young African Leaders Initiative (YALI) started by President Obama to nurture African entrepreneurs. She has extended her advisory role into South Korea and Europe. She continues to spearhead many trade missions to Ghana and other African countries.